PASO ROBLES SUGGESTED ITINERARIES

DISCERNING tastes

If your palate requires fine dining and your head needs a fluffed pillow – fear not, Paso Robles can satisfy even the most discerning tastes. Even though this is an agricultural based community many people have brought first class accommodations and faire to the area.

LODGING

Not to be outdone by the fine cuisine, Paso has its share of first class accommodations as well. For a Tuscan escape with views of vineyards and wild peacocks running around stone and gravel paths, it's hard to beat the gorgeous Villa Toscana. Located just a 5 minute drive from town, you'll be pampered in Paso's only four star/ five diamond hotel. If staying in the heart of the action is more your style, nothing can best Hotel Cheval. Nestled among the rolling green hills and vineyards of Paso Robles wine country, the Canyon Villa is the destination destined to win your heart. This bed and breakfast will charm you with its Italian architecture, heavenly views, intimate setting and luxurious amenities. You'll find sumptuously appointed rooms, multiple courtyard fireplaces, a reading library and even a horse drawn carriage to trot off to your dinner reservations. One of the newer establishments just at the southern edge of town is La Bellasera Hotel. It is right on the path to the famed West Side of Paso Robles wine country and has its own bar, spa and fine dining establishment within.

DINING

There is a reason Bon Appétit named Paso Robles as “the next great food region in California!” From the modern California cuisine of Artisan to authentic French at Bistro Laurent, to organic “early California” cuisine at Villa Creek, there are a number of excellent restaurants.
